1 of 4. At my company:

Multiple choice with single answer

92.98%	Most people are currently working from home	53 Responses
1.75%	Most people continue to work from the office	1 Responses
5.26%	It's about an even split right now	3 Responses

2 of 4. In my organization, we're expecting and planning for the coronavirus to impact our business:

Multiple choice with single answer

32.26%	Over the next three months (March/April/May)	30 Responses
26.88%	Over the next six months (through August)	25 Responses
19.35%	Through the end of 2020	18 Responses
9.68%	For about a year (through March 2021)	9 Responses
11.83%	Indefintitely (no clear timeframes)	11 Responses

3 of 4. My front-burner issues include (pick two - this one is for current corporates only)

Multiple choice with multiple answers

50%	Communicating and collaborating well with my team	26 Responses
57.69%	Sustaining our funding and keeping projects alive	30 Responses
19.23%	Navigating possible layoffs at our company	10 Responses
19.23%	Navigating possible layoffs at our company	10 Responses
42.31%	Supporting other teams (ops, supply chain, stores, etc.)	22 Responses
9.62%	Other Control of the	5 Responses

4 of 4. When it comes to creating openness to innovative ideas, or a culture of innovation, at my organization (or orgs I work with)::

Multiple choice with single answer

76.12%	I believe the current crisis will improve things	51 Responses
14.93%	I believe the current crisis will make things worse	10 Responses
8.96%	I don't think the current crisis will have an impact	6 Responses

